SYNOPSIS

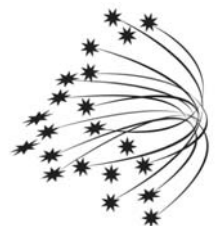

The CLUB DES CHEFS DES CHEFS is perhaps the most restrictive culinary club in the world – for only men and women who cook for the world's most powerful heads of state are invited to join. With only 40 members scattered around the globe, these chefs to world leaders meet once a year in a different location to spend time with each other and to sample that country's culinary treats. This past year, that destination was glorious Greece.

CLUB DES CHEFS DES CHEFS: A GREEK ODYSSEY is a one hour-journey with our chefs as they travel across the land where western cuisine was born.

They see and taste Greek food and experience the best that Greece has to offer. As they move through their culinary adventures, they reveal what it's like to cook for the high and the mighty. Sharing stories of their experiences cooking for people like Nelson Mandela, Margaret Thatcher, and Hilary Clinton. They give us insight into what it is like to be responsible for creating dishes for the most powerful people on earth.

These renowned chefs, include Walter Scheib, chef to U.S. President George W. Bush; Alan Lavender, chef to British Prime Minister Tony Blair; Anne Britt Lokken, chef to the King of Norway; Jose Moniz, chef to Canadian Prime Minister Jean Chretien; and many other's who cook for the Prime Ministers and Presidents of South Africa, Sweden, Ireland, Mexico, Peru, Spain and elsewhere around the globe.
