The hottest seat in fashion is now up for grabs!

SYNOPSIS

In the fall of 2006, Fashion File HOST HUNT held a Canada - wide open casting call, with auditions in Halifax, Montreal, Calgary, Toronto and Vancouver. Ten candidates made it through this first tough test to become finalists for Fashion File HOST HUNT.

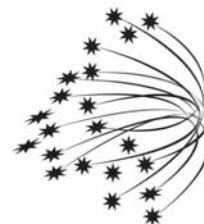

This diverse and dynamic group of hopefuls will compete against one another for the ultimate fashion prize: Host of the new Fashion File!

Over the course of Fashion File HOST HUNT, contestants will be tested and evaluated on their fashion knowledge, reporting, interviewing and presentation skills.

Perhaps the biggest challenge will be their ability to stand the pressure of our panel of expert judges. Based on how they handle their challenges, one candidate will be eliminated from the group each week and sent home immediately. The last finalist left standing in the final episode of Fashion File HOST HUNT will be the winner, and the new host of Fashion File!

Here's what the lucky winner can look forward to in his or her new role: travelling the world covering fashion stories, interviewing top designers and models, writing a column for Fashion Magazine and making the season's fashions accessible to a broad audience.

Nine contestants will go home empty-handed. One will see the dream of a lifetime come true. Who will be the new host of Fashion File?
