

SPECIAL OPS MISSION

escape, avoid, survive...

Reality Adventure Series: 6 x one hour

Wil Willis is a man who has trained thousands of soldiers in survival skills. Former Army Ranger and Air Force Para-Rescue, he has proven himself in the toughest arenas in the world and can survive on his own in any terrain. Now, in a survival show like no other, he must evade or defeat the world's best Special Forces teams to complete missions that will stretch even his abilities to the limit.

As each episode commences, Wil is handed a Special Operations Mission – a tactical goal to be achieved within some of the most inhospitable and dangerous environments on earth – from the jungles of Thailand to the Arizona desert to the snowcapped Rocky Mountains. He may need to rescue a hostage, retrieve a high-profile package or destroy an artillery emplacement. But each mission contains a secret agenda, with surprises revealed throughout to keep Wil on his toes.

As Wil is handed his mission, his opponents are also given theirs. In each episode, a new team of elite Special Forces operatives is drafted in – perhaps Wil's former compadres from the Army Rangers, an FBI urban pursuit team or an 'All-Star Team' of SEALs, Delta Force and SAS. Their mission may be to capture Wil 'live', reach a target before him or 'terminate' him by hitting him with 'simunitions' – actual projectiles fired from real weapons... that really hurt!

During his mission, Wil communicates on his progress through a handheld video camera, giving reports on survival skills, revealing the secrets of Special Forces tactics and providing a very personal look at one man's inner strength.

All missions are based on actual Special Forces missions and training, with the most respected and toughest military experts in the world ensuring each episode's gritty reality.

With a high-stakes chase, improbable rescues, clever plot twists that keep the action unpredictable, and a resourceful host who has proven his ability to survive anywhere on Earth, SPECIAL OPS MISSION is the military style mission that is as hair-raising as it is entertaining!
