Al Qaeda Family

Life in Bin Laden's inner circle and a rogue son's perilous escape.

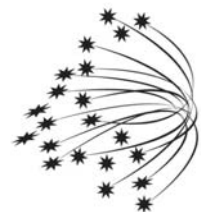

SYNOPSIS

This explosive documentary exposes life in Osama Bin Laden's inner circle. This is a portrait of a family drawn into a web of terror. The family is that of Ahmed Said Khadr, a longtime associate of Bin Laden.

With Khadr shot dead in a firefight, one child shot in the spine and paralyzed and one shot in the face and imprisoned in Guantanamo Cuba, other family members speak out about their direct ties to Al Qaeda.

For the first time, a rogue son now in Toronto recounts the dramatic saga of his journey through the Al Qaeda network, his stint as a CIA operative, his imprisonment and conditions in Guantanamo Bay and his ultimate wish to live a peaceful life.

There are exclusive interviews in Pakistan with Khadr's widow, daughter and one of the sons, a wanted Al Qaeda fugitive, who are unrepentant in their support for Bin Laden and Al Qaeda.
