A stylish docu-reality series with exclusive insights into the world of high end tattoo studio, Rumble & Hum – home to the finest dermal adornments money can buy.

South Africa's most awarded tattoo artist Lewis "Vudulew" Williams and his expert team cater to the inking and piercing desires of the country's most elite and wealthy clientele in this new reality and lifestyle series.

Rumble & Hum welcomes a diverse variety of customers, from international Formula One drivers and musicians to motorbike enthusiasts and business professionals.

But this is not just a show about tattoos, it's a unique insight into the everyday life of Williams, who, as well as being a professional firearms instructor and South Africa's most renowned E-Sports shoutcaster, is also one of the most controversial characters on the local entertainment scene.

An NV Studios Production.
